Where all the excitement begins

MDR-M1ST

- Swivels for easy storage
- Detachable cable can be replaced as needed

Imaging that faithfully reproduces the performance environment

Driver units developed in-house directly and accurately reproduce a high-resolution range beyond the limits of human hearing.

The practicality and durability professionals need

The detachable cable can be replaced as needed, and both durability of moving parts and impact resistance have been improved. Quality to withstand the rigors of professional use is evident in details such as PVD-coated sliders and sweat-resistant stainless steel screws.

Masterful handmade production

Sony/Taiyo Corporation is behind professional audio products used by many recording studios. Under strict quality control developed through years of professional production, each piece of equipment is expertly made by hand and carefully inspected before shipment.
